The Case of Wirz—His Counsel Ask a Commutation of Sentence.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Louis Schade, counsel for Wirz, had an interview with the President today, in accordance with previous arrangement, for the purpose of asking a commutation of the sentence. He mentioned, as one of the reasons for his request, that the prisoner was very feeble, and appearances indicated that he would not live six months longer, therefore the President could easily commute the sentence six months later, without hindering him.

The President being surrounded by a large number of visitors, Mr. Schade did not think it proper to ask for a direct answer, thinking it possible that some additional information might be had by knowledge of the President before Friday, which might induce him to extend the desired Executive clemency. He left with the President, however, a short statement, containing the reasons on which he based his application. The President received the paper, and promised to examine it.

Wirz referred to his counsel to-day that he was not very well in body, and quite feeble; he therefore feared that he could not walk to the place of execution with a steady pace, and this might be interpreted as a sign of fear. In the morning, when he saw the workmen building the gallows, it surprised him. He said he did not shudder, but this was because he was innocent of the crimes with which he was charged.

Tunisian Embassy—Counterfeiter Arrested.

PHILADELPHIA, November 8.—Tunisian Embassy to-day inspected the fleet of ironclads and monitors. They will leave for Boston to-morrow, and sail for Europe in two weeks.

Deputy United States Marshal Sharkey arrested yesterday at Lake Harbor, Laclede county, Dr. Edson Osborn, dealer in counterfeit postal currency. No counterfeit mail was found on him, but several packages had just mailed were found to contain sheets of bogus currency. He has been suspected and watched for many months.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The Tunisian ambassadors visited the Navy Yard to-day, and enjoyed a trip down the river, for the purpose of examining the immense fleet of iron-clads. Last evening they visited the Walnut Street Theater, where Caroline Richings is playing in English opera.

St. John Disaster—Coroner's Verdict.

NEW YORK, November 8.—The Coroner's inquest on the disaster of the St. John began this morning. The Coroner charged the jury that if the officers of the boat were found negligent of their duty they must be made to pay the pain and suffering of those who were lost, and to make amends for the loss of life, teaching silently but perfectly filthiness and order.

The President replied that he was glad to do what he could to effect an object would be to cultivate peace and friend, and he hoped the Government would be met in a corresponding spirit on their part. If the amicable relations, which should exist between the Government and those here represented, be cultivated, they should be made to result in the interests of all concerned.

He would spare no pains to see that their interests are promoted and themselves secured and protected in the enjoyment of all their rights. Provision would be made them while here, and they would be entertained in a manner suitable and fitting to their condition, and he hoped that when they left here they would take with them the best wishes and feelings of the President towards them.

Commissioner Cooley explained to the President that the Sacs and Foxes were to be paid to the crew by the treaty of 1842 they were granted an amount of $1,000.

The Sacs were largely in the major and numbered two-thirds of the confederate tribes. The Indians here represented complained that they have not had their rights, many of them never left their homes in Iowa, while others have returned thither from the South. The chief difficulty there is a division of annuity and land.

The President said he would again see them, and, after hearing all the facts, would be prepared to do what was right. He hoped some arrangement would be made to them.

The testimony of the second engineer showed no more than a proper quantity of steam was on at the time, and enough water was used to prevent accident. The inquest was adjourned till to-morrow.

ARRIVALS.

Wednesday, November 8.
United States, Cincinnati;

Liberty No. 2, Memphis;
Pioneer, New York;
Nightingale, Little Rock.

The river has only fallen yesterday with five feet water in the channel. During the previous twenty-four hours it had fallen two inches at Port Folard. The weather was clear and very pleasant all day, with ice and a heavy white frost in the morning.

The river has risen at noon yesterday had risen eighteen inches in the previous twenty-four hours. That should cause the river to rise here again to day.

Pittsburgh at noon yesterday the river was falling with five feet ten inches water in the channel, and mild weather.

The river was still falling on Tuesday with barely seventeen inches water on the shoals.

The Kate Robbie came in from Cincinnati yesterday, fully laden for St. Louis. Her agent had engaged a lot of freight but it was not convenient to take it.

Louisville's trade was still falling on Tuesday with barely seventeen inches water on the shoals.

The Clark is now trading. Why not again? Have the railroads cut off the trade?

By dispatch to Captain Pink Warble, we learn that the Bermuda, from Memphis, passed Evansville yesterday. She is due this evening, and returns to Memphis on Saturday.

The John T. McCombs, in charge of the veteran Captain Frank Henry, takes the place of the Tarascon in the mail trade, hence to Evansville and Henderson. She next will come either Friday or Tuesday next. The clerk is J. Morgan Smith, of this city.

The St. Charles, elongated and refitted made her appearance yesterday in bright array, as the People's Line packet for Cincinnati. She started soon after noon, followed by the United States, and the small line. Some interest was excited on the part of the witness the departure of the rival boats. The St. Charles had a good list of passengers, and both had some freight, though not so much as to prevent them from running their bases.

The friends of either boat were enthusiastic in their comments on the appearance and speed of their favorites, and thinking they were probably on a race or a trial of speed, we timed them over the Louisville quarter stretch, from opposite the foot of Third street to the six mile island, or "out of sight."

The St. Charles had the track and the lead, going off at good speed at the tap of the bell, passing the score at 55 minutes past 12. The United States was a little slower in starting, or getting under way, the river being flat. The Cincinnati was the slowest, and she got off just 1½ minutes after the St. Charles. The latter maintained the lead very jauntily until they had passed Jeffersonville, when seeing, or having "no ball," she took a bee line up the middle of the river apparently at high speed, cutting the lead.

The United States now began to shake off her sluggishness, and a denser volume of black smoke could be seen rolling out of her tall chimneys, and she began to show signs of life and energy. The speed from the wind, which was also with the departure of the towboat Sam Roberts with a large amount of coal for this market.

Among the receipts by the river to-day was a flatboat with 200 tons of Ohio pig iron for the agency, and was fully satisfied, with no sale last week. The prevailing rate for hot-hog pig metal was $40 per ton.

Some articles of country produce are a little higher, while others are rather dull at quotations. Buyers are paying 41¢ per bushel for beans, and 73¢ per bushel for flour.
